

Ronda to Setenil

Mountain Bike - Easy to Moderate

An easy to intermediate route, suitable for families and leisure riders, which can be varied from a 30 to 45 km route, depending on your preferences and ability. You will pass through varied rural Andalusian countryside, including vineyards and arable farmland, along old Roman routes and undulating trails. We finish at the village of Setenil de las Bodegas, where many of the houses, bars and restaurants are a unique type of "cavehouse", built directly into the limestone rock of the river valley walls. We finish with tapas and refreshments at one of these cave house bars, sitting beneath huge, overhanging rock ledges.

The easy option takes a mainly flat route, cross country, with a final descent into the white village of Setenil de las Bodegas.

The moderate route takes us higher for great views of the Sierra de Grazalema, Acinipo (Roman Amphitheatre) and past hillside bodegas of the Serrania de Ronda, before finally descending into Setenil along trails and through streams which lead us to the village.
